Dear Mr. Tumminia,

Contrary to false reports, the standard of human rights practiced in Jonestown, Guyana, is very high. Not only is every material need met abundantly but opportunities are available in every field for all members of the community. There is no unemployment, no crime, everyone can go as far educationally as they are able. It is tremendous place to grow up, and the children there are very fortunate. It is good to see State Department support growing in the face of the unfortunate attacks.

Yours truly,
